Our 62nd year

Presidents' Square

As of this writing, nearly all Indy Parks programs are canceled (that includes Krannert). Exceptions are food programs and some of the outdoor activities (trails, dog parks, splash parks, etc.), but indoor court/social activities remain closed. Square dancing is obviously a close contact activity, and even though we may be able to meet the 'not more than 100 people per event' criterion, it is unlikely that we will be able to start dancing any time soon. John Cook, President of IDA, recently sent out a memo stating that all Indiana square dances are canceled until further notice. So for now, we'll need to patiently wait until this pandemic is under control. Keep the faith – we will be dancing again – sooner rather than later, we hope.
